The Trincinals, recognizing the great advantage to little children of being trained under their supervision for the various classes of the Primary Department, have organized such a preparatory school. It will be put in the bands of a larry of long and successful experience in reaching little children; and, though in the same building, will be so far detached that the children need not come in contact with the rest of the school; nor will they be confined more than three and a half or four hours par day. AFRICAN METHODIST CHURCH .- The Elec total College of the Aunual Conference of Virginia convened its session in this city yesterday at 12 o'clock M., at the Third-Street church, for the purpose of electing two lay delegates to represent the lay memhers of the Conference in the coming Gene-May, 1880.

The meeting was called to order by Rev. W. B. Derrick, presiding elder, and reli- and of his intention to support the nomigious exercises were conducted by bim. was chosen chairman, and W. M. T. Forrester, of Richmond, secretary. On motion, the following committees were appointed: Credentials: Allen Gaskins, James On Burell, R. G. Forrester.

On Nominations: Daniel Graham, A

Gaskins, J. Burell, S. Smith, William Morris. On Petitions to General Conference: J. H. Brown, W. M. T. Foirester, A. Johnon, J. Burell, D. Maze, On General Conference Fund: W. M. T. Forrester, W. H. Brown, D. Graham,

J. Anderson. Committee on Discipline: M. J. Carter, R. G. Forrester, J. Henderson, W. Morris, Allen Gaskins. Adjourned to meet at 8 P. M.

At the evening session religious exercises were conducted by Rev. W. B. Derrick. The roll was called, when the following circuits and stations were answered to by their delegates: Richmond, Norfolk, Portsmouth, Hampton, Danville, Harmony, Chesterfield Henry, Prospect, North Danville, Goochland, Charlotte, Patrick, Southampton, Suffolk, Boydton, Deep Creek, Halifax. Independent-Detective John Wren was soon after employed to hunt it up. He at once wrote a postal-card to A. Harris, a pawnbroker of Richmond, and minutely described the watch, at the same time requesting him to be on the lookout for it. Yesterday afternoon about 44 o'clock :

negro went into the office of Mr. Harris and offered to pawn a watch. Upon being questioned concerning it he became frightened and ran out. Several citizens started in pursuit of the negro, but failed to capture him. Mr. Harris remembered receiving the card last year containing the description of Mr. Brownell's watch, and upon referring to it found out that the watch which was left by the negro answered exactly to the descrip tion of the one referred to in the card. THE WEATHER.-Tuesday the weather was warm and pleasant, the thermometer reading 89° about 1 o'clock. During that night the wind, which had been blowing from the southwest, suddenly changed to the north, and the temperature commenced falling rapidly, and by sunrise yesterday morning the thermometer indicated 48°-a fail of 41° in a few hours. This does not indicate, however, that frost is near at hand, as there will most likely be many more warm days and nights before the leaves begin to fall and Nature commences preparation for the wintry season. Amateur florists should, however, see to the plants which they wish to preserve through the winter, and have them potted ready to take into the house after short notice.

ACCIDENT TO EX-LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR MARYE.-Yesterday afternoon Hon. John L. Marye, while returning from Caroline court, was thrown from a light spring wagon between Bowling Green and Milford and painfully though not, seriously injured. The horses became unmanageable while crossing a piece of cordurey road, and the wheels getting off the roadway the wagon was upset, Governor Marye falling underneath. He was engaged upon the stone work at Mr. John B. Davis's stables, and in attempting to turn over a heavy stone it fell upon his fingers. He was taken to Dr. White's and had his wounds dressed.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT .- Yes terday afternoon Elias Nuckols, a carpenter, of Richmond, met with a very painful, accident while at work on the trestle at Belle Isle. In attempting to move a heavy piece of timber his left foot was caught underneath, mashing off four of his toes. He was brought to Richmond for tre atment.

is brought here which he thought had no business in this canvass, and that is in regard to the Sunday liquor law. Mr. Lovenstein said that he was a member of the House of Delegates when the bill was passed. He had been in two canvasses since its passage, and it had never been spoken of, and it is now brought up to test a man's fitness to represent this people on other great and important issues. The enactment of this law was demanded by people in several counties in this State where there had been disturbances on Sunday, and where there were no proper police regulations. As a compromise measure the present law was passed with the clear and distinct understanding that cities no complaint has been heard in regard to since the 1st September must produce their now claimed, however, that the law does not meet the original intention; if not, then he was for modifying it so as to carry out leave it in the power of our citizens to regulate as the majority shall think proper." John Hunter, Jr.: "Mr. Hunter said that he was in favor of the present Sunday law, believing that the highest interests of the community required it; that while it was folly to attempt to make men virtuous or religious by legislation contrary to their wishes, yet that that government had utterly failed of its high mission whose laws do not promote and encourage those virtues which the Christian religion enjoins." T. Wiley Davis: "He will not vote to

He further favors the enforcement of the penalty against all secular employment upon the Sabbath-day, believing that no nation or people can reasonably expect to be prosperous or happy who disregard the divine injunctions, 'SIX days thou shalt labor,' 'Remember the Sabbath-day,' &c."

William L. Royall: "The manner in which each individual should observe the Lord's day as an institution of religion is, I claim, a matter belonging to the domain of conscience, and not within the cognizance of the civil magistrate. This our

Bill of Rights explicitly declares. "I think the matter one of local self-government-a matter of local police. I think, therefore, that it should be committed to the custody of our municipal authorities. The law pretends to be one of general operation, while in fact it is only aimed at oppressing the cities. There are no beer-gardens or saloons throughout the country, and the bar-keepers in the country openly disregard it. All that I ask in respect to the matter is that the subject be put under the control of our municipal authorities. and I will then go hand-in-hand with the extremest advocate of order and decorum.' S. H. Pulliam : "Mr. Pulliam held that he city of Richmond should control the Sunday-law question, but was, nevertheless, in favor of a decent observance of the Sabbath day. He would lodge full authority in the City Council to act in the premises, being satisfied that the Council better understand our people, their modes of thought and method of business, than does the General Assembly." W. W. Henry : "He believed the State should not undertake to enforce religion by law, but the experience of the race had demonstrated that one day in seven should be kept as a day of rest. It was proper, therefore, for the State to require all its citizens to abstain from unnecessary labor on that day, and to enforce good order-and this in city and country alike. Why should a Henrico man living near Goochland have a stricter Sunday law over him than one living in or near the city. He could see no good reason for changing the present law. The State fine for a breach of the Sunday law goes to the city treasury, and that is all the difference. The Citizens' Association wanted one law for the State at large and another for the cities, and while not putting forth a ticket formally, were arranging to elect, if possihie, those of their views. His opponents must not be permitted to keep silent on this question, nor to avoid a direct answer. If they are for the change asked for by those opposing the present Sunday law, they must sav so."

James Lyons, Jr.: " As to the Sunday iquor law, I think all classes of citizens should be put on a just and equal footing and the law should compel all classes alike to observe the day of rest from all secular occupations. "I believe the law of seventh-day rest is an imperative natural law of the physical-being of man, and the State should enforce that law as necessary to preserve the health

POLICE COURT, WEDNESDAY-Justice J. I might be desired by the people of Henrico Themas J. Riddell! "I am in favor of leaving the regulation of this matter to the cities and counties of this Commonwealth, transfer the continue of the part of the Charles of the Charles of the Charles of the Charles and to allow them to enact such laws as may be best suited to their respective localities. In other words, I am in favor of cities being governed by their judiciary and council, who are fully able and capable of enforeing the law and maintaining good order without the interference of State laws." S. B. Will: "I was reared in that school of religion wherein I was taught that the peace and good order upon this day." John Johns, Jr.: "As fo the "Sunday law," as it is termed. I can only say, my fellow-citizens, that I came to Richmond thirty-seven years ago, and I want to see Mosquiroes .- The Gilbert Sisters open at | Sunday observed as it has always within the Theatre to-night in the burlesque opera my recollection been kept here. No more quiet and orderly city has there been in the leave the enforcement of the laws, and I can guaranty that our Sundays will con-tinue to be the old Virginia Sunday that we have had from our childhood, and that no one will have cause to complain." dren will be here next week to play Pina-George K. Crutchfield: "1 am in favor of Sunday law."

[For the Dispatch.]

Messrs. Editors,-As the Sunday laws are an issue in the coming election, and as is too late now for a newspaper discusion before the candidates are selected in the primary election, may I add a few words to Dr. Jeter's admirable article in Tuesday's Dispatch? The whole end and object of this agitation is that people may be allowed to sell and buy liquor for drinking on Sauday. I take it that beer-gardens and other like places of Sunday recreation would lese their chief attraction, and would be "flat, stale, and unprofitable," if liquors were not sold and drank there. Now, why should one man be allowed to sell liquor on Sunday, and another not be cation of the present Sunday law. Thought allowed to sell groceries, or dry goods, or anything else, on Sunday as well? Or if a man does not drink, but is fond of the Theatre, why should the drinking man be allowed to indulge his taste on Sunday and the theatre-goer be deprived of a like privilege? Is this just and equal? Is it not class legislation? Why cut the old saying, 22d. · Let us eat and drink, for to morrow we die," in two, and make it, "Let us drink, for to-morrow we die?" Let us eat too, and play too, and work too, and make money too, in any bonest way, without legislation or restriction. If the liquor-seller is allowed to sell, as liquor is certainly not necessary to public health, safety, or convenience, everybody else ought to be al. Madison Courthouse. RICHMOND, VA., September 10, 1879. Editors Dispatch: In to-day's issue is letter signed "B," respecting helping young men of an evening by furnishing a club-room for them to go to. This, I am sure, will meet with approval from our business-men. The writer says a prominent member of the Young Men's Christian Association says they are collecting money subject should control it, and thus the law to buy a lot and put up a building for that September 17th. has been carried out for several years, and purpose.
